TB, African Swine Fever and Newcastle Are Big Health Concerns	Oct 27, 2018 22:02:25 CDT	Bovine Vet	1.6	2
Description
It's not until you get a group of animal health professionals together that you realize how many issues they deal with on a daily basis. The U.S. Animal Health Association (USAHA) provides such a forum, bringing together animal health leaders from government, private practice and industry who work alongside livestock producers and human health representatives. The problems are many and varied, but for 122 years, solutions have been crafted with collaboration and compromise through USAHA. Members...

Description
LINK #13,636 The encroachment of ASF into Western Europe (see UK: DEFRA Preliminary Assessment Of ASF Reported In Belgium) and its recent arrival and spread across much of Eastern China, pose growing threats to pork producers around the world, including the UK, Western Europe, and North America. Today the UK's DEFRA ( Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs) has released two updated reports; one on ASF in China, and the other on the continued detection of ASF in wild boars in Belgium....
China MOA: Shanxi, Hunan &amp; Yunnan Province Report New Outbreaks Of ASF	Oct 30, 2018 10:03:04 CDT	Avian Flu Diary	3.0	3
Description
#13,635 Reports of African Swine Fever continue to come in to China's Ministry of Agriculture, with the southern provinces of Yunnan and Hunan, and Shanxi province in the north, all reporting new outbreaks today. As noted on Sunday , there have been some delays in confirming and reporting outbreaks from Hunan province, which is a concern as it is one of China's biggest pork producers. While reports have ( at least temporarily ) ceased from some of the earliest hit provinces, ASF has spread to 4...
China MOA: Special Measures To Limit Spread Of African Swine Fever	Nov 01, 2018 10:02:55 CDT	Avian Flu Diary	2.0	2
Description
ASF In China - Credit USDA #13,642 While China's MOA hasn't announced any new outbreaks of ASF since Oct 30th (see China MOA: Shanxi, Hunan & Yunnan Province Report New Outbreaks Of ASF), today they've posted the latest in a series of plans to address the spread of the virus across China. Citing a largely unregulated pig transport system, deficits in vehicle disinfection and cleaning - along with the illegal transport of pigs from ASF affected regions - the MOA has announced their intention to...
